

1998 Person of the Year

The Person of the Year Award is in recognition of Gary's outstanding contributions to the warehouse distributors and in appreciation of his conscientious dedication as an individual member of the specialty equipment industry.

Gary Biggs, Flowtech

Gary Biggs is a well decorated veteran of the performance automotive aftermarket. Prior to founding Flowtech Performance Exhaust in 1994, Gary was in charge of Sales and Marketing for Cyclone, BlackJack and Thrush, and was General Manager for Cragar Industries. Before opening Flowtech, Gary was Executive Vice President of Sales and Marketing for Mr. Gasket. Gary attributes most of his career success to his belief in establishing and maintaining great relationships with the Performance Wholesale Distributors, and a strong dedication to the three step distribution system. Gary believes in the performance automotive industry and works diligently to make his company a leader in the aftermarket.
